CLASS PROPHECY

As I started on my trip to the World's Fashion Center in Paris, France, in 1959, I stoped in Winston-Salem and bumped into Paul Swaim, manager of the Winston-Salem bus terminal. From here I chartered a plane to New York. On the plane whom should I see but Louise Riley as stewardess.

I found my seat and sat down. I noticed the person sitting beside me was a nurse. She was none other than Sue Johnson, who was on her way to Europe. We talked for some time. Sue told me that Gerald Boles was now a doctor at Hamptonville, North Carolina.

I had bought the New York Times at the airport in Winston-Salem. My eyes caught sight of a very familiar name. It was of Detective Joe Cook of Texas, reported to be looking for a man who had stolen some jewels. Glancing through the sports page, my eyes fell upon the new home run king for the New York Red Socks—Leo Myers.

By talking to Louise, I found that Muriel Royall had married James Reynolds and was caring for her large family at Yadkinville, North Carolina.

At La Guardia Field in New York, I saw Ola Mae Billings, Ina Lou Durham, and Mary Lee Swaim boarding a plane for Chicago, Illinois. They told me they were going to Chicago School of Nursing and had come to New York for their vacation. They also told me Mary Ruth Holcomb finally married Ed Pardue and was now living near Knobs Church and that Lucille Holleman was pianist at Oak Grove Church. As I remember her, she never played the piano. Well, what changes time will bring!

I stayed overnight in a New York hotel and guess who was proprietor—Eugene Myers. On the elevator going up, I kept gazing, for some reason, at the elevator boy. He looked familiar. Oh! Yes, he was J. C. Myers, who used to play basketball at West Yadkin. There was a very beautiful girl on the elevator. Her eyes looked like those of Oleen Swaim. It was she! She's one of Hollywood's glamour girls now, just on a visit in New York. She told me that Betty Lou Shore had married a Marine and was now living in Manhattan and that Mary Lou King had her own little beauty shop on Fifth Avenue.

The next day, I went to King's Beauty Shop. I must say that Mary Lou gives beautiful cold waves. I adore my new one. She gave me Betty Lou's address, so I decided to spend the afternoon with her. Betty Lou told me June Shore was married and was now living in the big city of Longtown, North Carolina. She also told me Freda Mitchell married Allen Wagoner and was helping him sell life insurance in Germany and that Annie Vee Wishon and husband, Claude Shore, own a restaurant in Palm Beach, Florida.

That night I went to a concert at one of New York's most famous theaters an who do you think came cut on the stage—Annie Pearl Ireland Groce, Husband, Delmar was in the audience.

The next day, I sailed for Paris. On the ship, I met Corene Caudle, who was on her way to China. She told me that she had become a missionary. I learned from her that Mary Ruth VanHoy was now a Public School Music Teacher at West Yadkin. Upon my arrival at Paris, I decided I'd look around town. I found Harrell Wagoner, who had just flown in from Washington, D. C., on his B-29 plane. After talking with him, I found that I must hurry to the Fashion Show. The place was large and crowded, but I found a good seat.

The dresses that were being modeled were very beautiful—slightly shorter than those in '49. My eyes fell upon a beautiful blond, who was Pat Weatherman. After the show, I went back stage to see Pat. She was surprised to see me. She told me Abram Wells was a great preacher in London, England and that Donna Lou Vestal owned a dress shop on La Rue Fille.

I dropped in the dress shop to see Donna Lou. She looked very stylish with her upsweep hair-do. I learned from her that Leamer Peele had married a Greyhound bus driver and was now living in Boston, Massachusetts.

I caught a plane for New York the next day. From there, I boarded a train to Hamptonville, North Carolina.

Well, it has been a long trip and now I have to visit Milton Sloan, Principal at good old West Yadkin High School, and tell him of my pleasant journey. I am also anxious to see Mary Ruth VanHoy's new diamond. Who's the fellow she's marrying, anyway?

FAYE HOWARD, Prophet.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We the Senior Class of West Yadkin High School, being in the full possession of all our mental faculties and having no fear of anyone hereby devise, will, bequeath, and convey our various earthly possessions.

To Mr. Wright, we leave with pleasure our admiration and appreciation for putting up with us all these years.

To our class room teacher, Mrs. Wishon, the profound admiration and ever enduring friendship of the Class of 1949, in individual as well as collective manifestation.

To the other teachers of West Yadkin High School, we convey our ability to know a good thing when we see it. As this ability has been largely created by their instructions, we are merely returning to them their own invaluable gift.

We give and bequeath to the Junior Class all such boys as were not able to keep pace with such brilliant girls as compose the majority of our class, trusting that the Junior girls may be able to hold firmly to them and steer them firmly next year through the gates of Commencement, that they may not share in the humiliation that has been ours at not being able to "hold our men folks" as the women of the world would put it.

To the Freshman and Sophomores, collectively and individually, I convey my power of saying the wrong thing in the right place, or the right thing in the wrong place. Just how this is accomplished I am not able to say. Each one will need to work the matter out for himself or herself. There is no doubt that much benefit will result from the effort.

To the Freshman Class that is to be—any overlooked cuds of gum we may have left adhering to the underside of desks, assembly seats, or any likely or unlikely places. We have sometimes had to rid ourselves of these in too much haste to be able to pick and choose the most desirable means of disposal.

Our seats in Assembly Hall, we bequeath to be taken by whosoever is able to grab them first.

ITEMS:

The following may seem but trifling bequests, but we hope they may be accepted not as worthless things lavishly thrown away because we can no longer keep them, but as valuable assets to those who may receive them, and a continual reminder of the generosity of heart displayed in our free and full bestowal:

Mary Ruth VanHoy leaves her high school grades to James Steelman.
Mary Lou King leaves her basketball suit to Rita Brooks, who well deserves it.
To Louise Oliver, Betty Lou Shore bequeaths her artistic work.
Harrell Wagoner wills to Z. K. Mullis, bus number 15.
To Maxine Swaim, June Shore's shortness.
His basketball suit, J. C. Myers leaves to Jimmy Wright.
Freda Mitchell leaves her position as Editor of newspaper to Peggy Bell, and her giggles to Maxine Cheek.
To anyone who is dumb enough to take it, Corene Caudle gives her Geography seat.
Faye Howard bequeaths her neatness to Peggy Sue Myers, studiousness to Bobby Jane Shore, courtesy to Dorothy Wood and her Editorship of Annual to James Steelman.
To Doris Smoot, Ola Mae Billings leaves her sweetness.
To Lester Reavis, Milton Sloan's quietness.
Louise Riley leaves her height to Grace Godfrey, and her beauty to Peggy Sue Myers.
His wits and talkativeness, Paul Swaim wills to Jerald Cheek.
To Priscilla Moore, Annie Pearl Ireland leaves her singing ability; to Barbara Money, she leaves her piano ambition.
Oleen Swaim bequeaths her wits and talkativeness to Beulah Crews, and her popularity and friendliness to Kat Wagoner.
Her quietness, Mary Lee Swaim leaves to Lorene Hemric.
To Louise Parduc, Leamer Peele bequeaths her personality.
Gerald Boles leaves his French book to Mrs. Wishon, and his basketball ability to Richard Pinnix.
Her cuteness, Annie Vee Wishon leaves to Barbara Ireland.
To June Wallace, Pat Weatherman's position as Captain of the girls' basketball team.
Leo Myers bequeaths his basketball suit to Bill Cheek, and his good looks to L. F. Miller.
To any unlucky person, Mary Ruth Holcomb leaves her World History seat.
Her love for housekeeping, Lucille Holleman leaves to Marion Dell Salmons.
Sue Johnson bequeaths her sportsmanship to Ollie Mae Groce, and best-all-round to Priscilla Moore.
To Aaron Brown, Joe Cook's studynig ability.
His hook-shot, Eugene Myers leaves to Wendell Wood.
To whomsoever may get it, Donna Lou Vestal leaves her Geography book.
Abram Wells bequeaths his sportsmanship to L. F. Miller.
To Helen Carter, Muriel Royall's big mouth.
Ina Lou Durham leaves to Mr. O'Donnell a map of the world.

Besides these enforced gifts we leave—not of necessity, but our own free will—our blessing, tender memories of our pleasant associations together, and our forgiveness for anything that we may not have exactly appreciated in the demonstrations of the past, and a pledge of friendship from henceforth and forever. We give and bequeath to our beloved Principal for his use and benefit aboslutely, and to be disposed of for the good of the coming classes as he may see fit.

And we do hereby constitute and appoint the said Principal executor of this our last will and testament.

In witness whereof, We the Class of 1949, the testators have to this our will, written and set seal this twenty-sixth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine.
